WHEN WAS THE FIRST TIME?

You pressed your face to the glass and exclaimed that 4-letter word, "COOL."
You hear the growl, rumbling ever closer like a brewing storm.
Suddenly, the new Mustang bolts into view.

Your soul enticed. Your heart stolen.

On the street or at the track, under sun’s light or dusk’s veil...
... it can happen anywhere.
Anytime.

Accleration That's Explosive

Hall-of-fame racing legend Carroll Shelby didn’t invent the Mustang – he ignited it. In 1964, he applied his Ford AC Cobra learnings to the first Ford Mustang. End result? A performance-packed pony: the 1965 Shelby GT350. Carroll Shelby still thinks a Mustang is meant to go faster. So he teamed with Ford’s Special Vehicle Team (SVT) to deliver the most powerful GT500® ever.

This cockpit is an all-new blend of world-class craftsmanship, premium materials and the latest technology. A seamless, soft-touch skin wraps the one-piece instrument panel. For added intensity, genuine aluminum panels are optional. Voice-activated Ford SYNC® is available. The center stack is revamped. DONUTS WERE NEVER SWEETER

Drop the clutch and do it up. With the addition of cold-air induction to the recalibrated V8, output jumps to 315 and the redline bumps to 6000. There’s a throatier roar to match — wider dual-exhaust tips shout it out. For extra emphasis, that signature V8 rumble is specially piped directly into the cabin. Suspension components — including springs, stabilizer bars, struts, shocks, control arms, brakes and steering — are fine-tuned for a more engaging and balanced GT experience. And while stability control comes standard, you can switch it to sport mode or shut it down completely. The all-new TrackPack1 is the ultimate option: Developed for enthusiasts by enthusiasts, you’re treated to SVT stabilizer bars and lower control arms, a front shock-tower crossbrace, performance brake pads, a 3.73 rear-axle ratio, 19" summer treads and lots more. Have at it.

1Available Summer 2009.

The sweeping beltline, kicked-up haunches, pronounced curves, chiseled arches, power dome hood, and even the hidden washer-fluid jets make for a cleaner, leaner machine. On top of some striking new rims – now wrapped in 17” or optional 18” rubber – Mustang V6 sports a unique grille and front fascia for a sleek look all its own. Notice is served, with heaps of fun.

Remember that even advanced technology cannot overcome the laws of physics. It’s always possible to lose control of a vehicle due to inappropriate driver input for the conditions.
